

Safety Tips for Using Mildly Flammable Refrigerant Air-conditioners

Hey there!
Please pay attention to the following safety tips for installation of household air-conditioners bearing a "flame" label:

The installation, inspection and maintenance work should be conducted by professionally trained technicians.

The requirements on,
minimum room area and minimum installation height for installation specified by the manufacturer shall be complied with.

3

The place of installation should not be close to any fire source or electric heating appliance.

Disposal of household air-conditioners should be handled by a relevant licensed recycler.
